Catalog For Summer Session Available

The Whitnorr Summer School Catalog for the 1966-67 session is now available. It contains information on courses, fees, and other details. The catalog is available for a limited time only. It is a valuable resource for students and parents. The catalog is available for a limited time only. It is a valuable resource for students and parents.

The good speaker was Dr. Nicholas P. Mitchell, head of the department of political science at Furman university, who made a talk on "Observations of Russia".

The members of the senior class were guests of the A. A. U. at a social hour following the business session.

Dr. Mitchell spoke on "The Place of Language (Ancient and Modern) in the Changing High School Curriculum" at the joint meeting of the ancient and modern language association.

Winthrop P. O. Daily Gets 3,000 Letters; 250 Packages

Those who make three trustees' journeys to the post office every day may find it hard to believe, but about 3,000 letters are received daily at the Winthrop post office, enough for each student to get an average of one and one-half letters a day. And for the benefit of those hungry

For a total of three never seems to be a box, a total of 250 packages is delivered every day at Winthrop.

Not only that, but as less than 100 packages go out from Winthrop every day and, in round numbers, around 2,000 letters and 500 post cards are mailed from the college.

Letters are sent abroad.

Address on envelopes of our puzzle the postmistress. Nicknames are frequently used, and Miss Lillian Horvath recently received a letter addressed to "Mr. William Horvath."

One letter was found addressed to "The Students will compare the course when they reach their standing of a reading."

Particular emphasis is to be given to reading speed and comprehension of material. Eye movement and vocalization will be checked.

Material being used for the course

The post office has handied packages containing everything from live alligators to fresh strawberries. Mrs. Julia Sims, postmistress, finds that the most popular magazines are Life and The Reader's Digest.	Miss What Did You Say Your Name Was? Winthrop Osieleg Rock Hill South Carolina "	is of both work and recreational type. In this way the speed on each type can be tested. According to Miss Holmes, postmistress, the girls are showing much interest in the course.

Y. Denominational Teas Given Tuesday

The Y is sponsoring a group of denominational teas were Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock to encourage better cooperation between the churches, the Y, and the students.

The ministers of the Rock Hill churches, their wives, and the leaders of the young people will receive the Winthrop students beginning in their church.

The tea for the Methodist girls will be in the parlors of Roddy hall, the Episcopalians in Breasale, the Presbyterians in Margaret Nance, the Baptists in Bancroft, the Associate Reformed Presbyterians in McLaurin, and all other denominations in Johnson hall.

Maude Orr, a member of the Y cabinet, is giving the chairman of the church cooperation committee.

The chairman in charge of the different groups are: Baptist—Misses Elysiopians; Wisc. Rev. Baptist; Helen Paulkner, A. R. P.; Sarah Bishop, Methodist; Penelope Kienland, Presbyterian; Mary Lou Price, Lutheran; Marguerite Mitchell, Catholic; and Bertie Wolpert, Jewish.

Breasale Honors Seniors At Saint Patrick's Tea

On Thursday afternoon the freshmen in Breasale entertained the seniors of the dormitory at a tea in the parlors from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Receiving the guests were Angeline Towell, Ethel Stepper, and Margaret Dupper. They invited their guests to have tea and directed them into the parlors which were decorated in a Saint Patrick's motif.

Members of the dormitory social committee served refreshments.

D. A. R. Reception Held In Johnson Hall Foyer

Winthrop students played a prominent part at the opening meeting of the state D. A. R. conference held Monday night in Johnson hall, as prizes, color-barrers, and heralds.

Dr. Frances Parkinson Keyes, honor guest, made a talk during the evening in which she took her audience on an abbreviated trip around the world. Her lecture was interspersed with original poems.

Following the talk a receiving line was formed, headed by Mrs. Logan Marshall, state regent. Miss Melvin Ellis and Miss Clara Abernathy, assisted by students in white evening dresses, served punch and sandwiches to the several hundred guests.

Sponsors Tournament

Elizabeth Collingsham, junior, was co-sponsor with Miss Lettie Burns, Winthrop Training School history supervisor, in the debating tournament conducted by the Potomac Academy league of the Training School last Thursday and Friday.

Awards were made by Elizabeth at a banquet Friday night.

Lis Kelly Re-unites Old Johnsonian Staff At Party

Elizabeth Kelly, former editor of The Johnsonian, entertained her staff last Friday afternoon at her home on Hunter avenue.

Mrs. John Kelly and Elizabeth met their guests at the door. In the study and in the parlor tables were arranged for Michigan. For two hours excited voices could be heard as the games progressed. Late in the afternoon the tables were cleared and laid with dainty linen sets. The hostess, assisted by her mother, served a most course.

In addition to the 1927-28 staff Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Parr were present.

4-H Club Officers Honored

One of the social events Saturday for the meeting of the Clemson and Winthrop 4-H clubs was a supper for the officers held at the home of the Winthrop sponsor, Miss Margaret Martin.

Those attending were Mary Leinor, Ruth Hancey, Ruth Wingard, Anne Addison, Virginia Garvin, Jessy Harrison, and Annie Laura Sturkey. The Clemson adults were Renee Huff, Edley Clayton, Oswald Purvis, and C. C. Copeland. Harris Beach, and Nelson Smith.

"Trip-of-the-Week" Takes Winthrop Girls to P. C. Hop

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles. The Trip of the Week, to appear in The Johnsonian each week. For each week we will try to choose the most unusual and interesting weekend spent away from Winthrop.)

Place: Presbyterian college. Time: March 11, 12, and 13. Characters: Virginia Davis and Pet Dargan (Halter Simpson), Rose Sims, Emily Johnson, and Edwina Dargan also attended. Settings: Popped on suitcases on the P. C. campus Sunday morning. Virginia Davis and Pet Dargan re-visit their weekend as guests at the Kappa Alpha formal dance.

CURTAIN
Pet: Oh, the banquet was wonderful! We all went right before the dance Friday night. The tables were arranged in the shape of a horse-shoe with seats of yellow daisies down the middle. At each place was a KA pennant alongside the place card.

The food was superb! There were four courses, but I remember the cream chicken best of all. The salad was fixed in a rather unusual way. It was a pear with cheese hair and a face filled in with other good things.

In the middle of the banquet each boy presented his date with a delicate gold KA seal on a dainty chain. Of course, we couldn't linger half an hour as we would have liked. The dance began pretty soon in the armory.

Winthrop Alumnae Banquet In Columbia

An alumnae banquet will be held during the State Teachers association meeting at Columbia in the ballroom of the Columbia hotel from 4 o'clock to 1:30 o'clock on March 11.

There will be probably 200 or more alumnae in attendance as guests of the Richmond county chapter of Winthrop Daughters. Dr. and Mrs. Horton Phelps, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Kinard, and Mrs. D. B. Johnson will also be present.

Miss Elm Wardlaw is chairman of the Alumnae committee which is in charge of "the program."

South Plans St. Patrick Party In Music Hall

Dancing and games will be in the heart of South Saturday party tomorrow night after the show, announced Martha Jo Jones, chairman for the March party.

Decorations and refreshments will be appropriate for Saint Patrick's Day.

Georgie Leiner, Edith Pennell, Mary Sanders, Julia Peger, Catherine Eastman, Frances Ry, Bradshaw Simpson, Ann Carroll, and Marjorie Mitchell served on the committee.

Personalia:

Miss Ermine Wilfong spent the weekend in Columbia as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy James, former of Winthrop.

Athletic Center went to Wake Forest last Friday for annual mid-winter. Marian Masters visited in Raleigh.

Bessie Seiger of the English family spent the weekend at Duke university in Durham.

Dorothy Hair and Blanche Gregory were visitors in Spartanburg last Friday.

Mrs. W. H. Williamson of Greenville spent the weekend at Winthrop as guest of her daughters, Ann and Alice. Mrs. Williamson came up for the Masquer spring page performance.

Superintendent C. M. Mitchell Saturday in Columbia at the Military Ball at Greenboro, N. C.

Marie Pils, who has been in the infirmary for several weeks, has gone to her home in Greenville to recuperate.

Miss Mary Louise Greave, a former Winthrop student who is now enrolled at the University of North Carolina, is spending the spring holidays with her sister, Dr. Elise Greave.

Miss Martin, Andrew and Lucille Hueston attended the Military Ball at Greenboro, N. C. on Saturday March 11 and 12.

Miss Johnson, Lella Stinson, and Martha Orr were guests of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at Davidson last weekend.

Jean Moss, Caroline Riley, and Frances Robinson attended a house party in Easley.

Canteen Gets Nickels Boy Gets Phone Calls

What price popularity? A pocketful of nickels, according to one Winthrop freshman.

Every Sunday night one would expect some marching up to Roddy hall with his pocketful of nickels. He usually leaves minus numerous nickels, but he claims it is a worthwhile loss.

All during the next week the young man's associates wonder at his popularity. For, at least once a day and sometimes twice, the phone rings and a feminine voice inquires for him.

The secret is this: The nickels are supposed to be invested in the Roddy pay phone—for each nickel a phone call.

What the young man doesn't know is that the Y Canteen gets the nickels, and the phone calls originate at the home of the freshman's aunt out in town.

Pet: Why do days like these have to end?
